1. Subject is a candidate for the position of contract courier. I interviewed [redacted] on this date and outlined to him in very general terms the nature of the assignment. He indicated a complete willingness to accept the position of the nature described and appeared to fully comprehend the contract nature of the assignment. [redacted] informed me that he is single and does not contemplate marriage in the foreseeable future.

2. [ ] stated that in college he majored in business (marketing) and served a six-month hitch in the United States Marine Corps. He is uncertain as to exactly what work he would like to pursue as a career. He stated that he likes to travel very much and really that is the reason for his applying for this particular position. He stated that to some people a position of the nature described would be work but to him he would not characterize the job as "work". He stated that he wants to get the travel "bug" out of his system and when this is done he will decide as to what he wants to do ten or twenty years in the future.

3. The Subject made a nice personal appearance and communicated effectively. It is my opinion, however, from my conversation with him and comparing him with other candidates for this Security Officer courier position that [ ] would in all probability not decide to continue with the Agency upon the conclusion of his contract. In view of our experience to date with [ ] who is working out extremely well as a contract courier and in whom the Office of Security has a decided interest as a Special Agent (staff) upon the conclusion of his tour, it is felt that the position of contract security courier with OSA is an outstanding training ground for future staff Security Officers and in view of the limited number of contract "slots" available, it is felt that we should select only those officers whom we feel reasonably sure will continue with the Agency. 48

4. Although as I indicated above the Subject appears to be a nice young man and of above average intelligence, I do not believe that he is the man for this particular job. I would suggest that his file be referred to other elements of the Agency.
